BARBARA KRAMER began writing biographies for children and young adults after following the advice of another author who said, "Write what you like to read." She remembered how much she enjoyed biographies when she was a kid, especially stories about trailblazers such as Davy Crockett, Daniel Boone, and Elizabeth Blackwell and decided that's what she wanted to write. Her subjects have included both historical figures and people in the news.

My 6 year old is obsessed with Egypt. I mean obsessed. She really loved this short book about a strong woman who ruled a country thousands of years ago. I enjoy teaching my daughter about strong females in history. This book fit the bill.

I love these books. I'm constantly looking for interesting nonfiction texts for my classroom. These are perfect for my third graders and they can not get enough of them. Kids are constantly coming up to me and telling me new facts that they have learned from the books in this series. Great for science, reading, social studies, history, vocabulary, etc. Highly recommended!

Great book for those that are interested in learning more about Cleopatra. Purchased for a gift for my daughter for Christmas and she has read it many times and loves sharing her new knowledge with us. Very pleased.

It was fine for what we needed; a school project. That's all I really need to say. Didn't really want to post, but couldn't get out of it.

I have purchased all the National Geographic readers for my classroom library. My students love these informational texts. Unfortunately, this text will not be going into my classroom library as it is, because there are two pictures where a women's breast is exposed and I can just imagine student's reactions to this. I will however, drawn on these women's tops so that this book is appropriate for my class.

My daughter loved this book. She is in an Egyptian phase right now and reading all she can. This was written well for her age, 8, and gave great facts which she retains!!

Great for my 3rd graders Cleopatra report. Many pictures and easy to read.

Just what my daughter wanted!
