- History, from the founding to the 2004 handover
- Customs, etiquette, food and drink
- *Descriptions of important sites

Catherine Arnold worked for the first English-language newspaper in Iraq, The Baghdad Bulletin, in 2003. While in Baghdad she also wrote for magazines and newspapers in the United Kingdom, United States, and the Middle East and was regularly invited to comment on network television and radio.

I had two copies of this book with me while in Iraq and I made sure to give one copy to someone who would make good use of it. I found most of the contact information to be quite up-to-date while I was there in 2005 but of course things can change quickly over there. The book even provided some good background info and photos. Its small format makes it perfect for carrying in an ACU or DCU pocket.
