"A delightful debut." --The New York Times "A delightful debut." -The New York Times "Rinker's rhythmic verse reinforces the vehicles' love of their work (Dump Truck "moves the dirt/ from place to place, / Then dumps it with a happy face") and, like Lichtenheld's art, deftly balances the story's boisterous and drowsy elements. Truck lovers will happily nod off to the strains of this read-aloud." - Publishers Weekly "A delightful debut." - The New York Times "An ideal bedtime book for all those truck-loving toddlers and preschoolers! ...If there's a truck fan in your family, this is a great pick... Drive it to the top of your pile of story time truck reads as well." - Waking Brain Cells blog "For all those youngsters who feel coziest with a cement mixer jammed into an armpit and a dump truck wedged at their feet, Goodnight, Goodnight, Construction Site might be the best bedtime book ever." - Hampton Roads "Gentle rhymes and soft-colored pictures of favorite trucks are the perfect way to lull any child into sweet dreams." - Bookmarkable blog, "Lichtenheld's detailed and textured illustrations, rendered in wax oil pastels on vellum paper, perfectly complement the fun, rhyming text, cleverly personifying each truck with expressive eyes and amusing details. ...Recommended for vehicle- and bedtime-themed storytimes, this is sure to be a hit with truck-loving preschoolers." - School Library Journal, starred review "Perfect for sleepers who are more fascinated by the motorized and muddy than by the soft and fluffy. A certain subset of parents and grandparents will see this book and shout, "At last!" - Chicago Tribune

This is our toddler's favorite book. It's in his bedtime story rotation (the hardcover/paper version). We got it for him last Christmas in a gift set with some CAT tractors. He LOVED it all so much and still does a year later. While browsing through books at Target last week, he noticed this one and was really excited since he recognized the cover. As you read the story, it has a picture for the corresponding button so the sounds and noises fit in perfectly. It's easy enough that he was able to do it very well on his own and he LOVED it! It was so fun for him to "help" with the story since he can't quite read yet. He asked if we could please bring the book home but we put it back on the shelf. Little does he know, we got it for him for one of his gifts this year. We thought it would be perfect because we can actually sit side by side and he can follow along with his book while we read the big one. This one is also a board book so much safer for toddlers. I'm excited for story time once he opens his gift. He is going to be super excited!

My grandson LOVES the paper book and so I thought he would enjoy this board book. He does like the sounds and the pictures but it is not the complete story and he misses some of the words. I think this would be a great choice for a toddler if they had not seen the full paper version first.

I was so excited they were making a board book, since my 10 month old likes to rip pages. I am disappointed that it is not the full book. It only has 12 pages vs 32 pages from the original. When I pre-ordered this book, I didn't see any listed information. It is cute but the sounds are loud. I just wish it contained more pages from the original.

My son loves construction equipment and this book really delivers for him. It's sturdy and can handle a 2 year old constantly man handling it. Each page has a different construction equipment, the buttons with the sound aren't too loud that it annoys me when my son pushes them a ton, it's just a good r as before bed to help settle in.

Not close the original! My 2.5 yr old son had the original book and I thought this would enhance his experience but the story itself is so truncated

Not super engaging. Your kids might like it if they already like the original Goodnight Construction Site book/story. The sounds were just some generic construction sounds. After the first two days, this book is now somewhere collecting dust.

Our grandson loved this book for his second birthday. He loves construction equipment and the sounds were a special extra while reading the book. He always says "beep beep" when he backs up his toy dump truck. Just great.

My son and I love, love, love the Goodnight Goodnight Construction Site book. We hoped this was the same thing but just with buttons, so he could participate. But this is actually a different story with different plot. Still cute, but just not as cute as the original. I write reviews because I do the majority of my shopping on and rely on the honest reviews of others. If you found this review helpful, please mark it as helpful. I would also love for you to follow my reviews on . Thanks for reading and happy shopping!!
