"If you look at life as a journey rather than a destination, then Cadogan Guides are the manuals for you." - --Everything France magazine

Philippe Barbour is half-Breton and half-British, and has written extensively about France in both books and magazines. He is the author of Cadogan's Rhône-Alpes guide and co-author of the France guide.

We used this book for an 18-day tour of the Loire Valley from Angers to Blois. Prior to the trip we had researched travel guides for this area and found nothing even close to the level of detail and sensible organization Cadogan provides. In the event, we found it accurate and practical in its focus. Particularly noteworthy is its organization around the tributary rivers of the Loire, which tends to line up with the roads that follow the river valleys. For automobile touring, this feature is perfect.

Great book.it gives a thorough description of the Loire Valley with all the information you need to plan your trip to the Loire Valley.

Not the most engaging guide, and not at all geared to the history traveler in the way that other Cadogan French regional guides have been.
