Bubble In The Bathtub (Doctor Proctor's Fart Powder)

Synopsis

The Fart Powder was such a successful invention that Doctor Proctor, Nilly, and Lisa couldn't stop there. Next up: a time-travelling bathtub. You just hop in, lather up the Time Soap, and wish for where you'd like to go. Doctor Proctor has plans for this new invention. You see, he lost his true love years ago, when Juliette Margarine married an evil count. The good Doctor has never quite gotten over this, and he's going back to change it. But when things go wrong, it's up to Nilly and Lisa to travel back in time to right all wrongs and reunite the two lovebirds. Nothing is quite so simple in a Jo Nesbo book. Enter a herd of hippos, a scheming assistant, and Time Soap that keeps going awry, sending Nilly and Lisa to the storming of the Bastille! Fortunately, as in every Jo Nesbo book, the Fart Powder solves everything.

Grade 4 • Tiny dynamo Nilly and his friend Lisa, first introduced in Doctor Proctor's Fart Powder (S & S, 2010), return to save the day (and the doctor). At the end of their last outing, Doctor P. headed back to Paris to save the love of his life, Juliette Margarine, from having to marry evil Claude Cliché. A mysterious postcard from the past sends Nilly and Lisa on a mission to rescue him, both helped and hindered by the doctor's crazy inventions, including a time-traveling bathtub and translating nose plugs. A whirlwind tour of French history ensues, including stops at the Moulin Rouge, the Tour de France, Waterloo, the Bastille, Monsieur Eiffel's workroom, and Joan of Arc's jail cell, with our heroes changing history right and left. Chasing them through time is Raspa, Proctor's one-legged former assistant, inventor of time-travel soap, who makes the ultimate sacrifice to atone for past misdeeds. This story is darker and less icky than the first, though it still has plenty of goofy moments, a few farts, and a mostly happy ending. Bought the first book on a whim trying to find a series my 9 year old son would like to read. We started reading the first book together at night. that lasted only 2 nights because he just couldn't put it down and was reading every spare chance he could. Finished the first one fast and was asking when could we go buy this one. Downloaded onto his kindle and once again he is off to the races reading, which I love love love and this is no small book. He has talked to his teacher about this series and how fun this series is. He is getting the 3rd for Christmas. Fun reading. He says he likes this book a little more than the first.

Super funny. A book written for kids but loved by adults.

My 11 year old granddaughter just loves these books and can't read them fast enough. It is wonderful to see her with her "nose in a book". As a fan of Jo Nesbo, I admit I couldn't believe he was also an author of kids books.

My seven year old son loved these books. LOVED them. My husband even read them because he wanted to know why our son was so entranced with them. Our son carried this book with him everywhere in case he had a chance to read!!!

Good fun to read together with your children. A fun mix of events that keeps you giggling throughout the read.

My daughter loved it

The book was a gift for my granddaughter and she has loved it. It's one of her reread books and is really getting dogeared love it.
