My outstanding Catholic Grand Parents, Ben and Anna Greve, taught me Biblical morals and fundamental Christian teaching starting at 2 or 3 years of age. I am eternally appreciative to them for their Biblical teaching. Your children and grand children will appreciate your teaching them sound Biblical principles. God Teaches Children to Overcome Fear and to trust God, using scriptures, creative examples and children's stories to help kids overcome their fears. This book uses original and creative approaches to teach children the Biblical principle of overcoming fear and trusting God. I whole heartedly recommend this book for 2 to 7 year olds. --Don Greve Saint Mark's --This text refers to the Hardcover edition.

About the Authors and Illustrators: Agnes and Salem de Bezenac have two children. This has been one of their lives greatest joys. During their preschool years, Agnes, (a teacher by profession) and Salem (a music producer) began looking for ways to positively encourage their children in learning good values and morals. After some dramatic experiences, and some changes of priorities, this has now become their mission. They saw first-hand the sad effects of a society without virtues and values. Today, they devote most of their time to Salem and Agnes live in France (Agnes being French) with their two children (and their cat) and hope to continue being a blessing to others for as long as possible. --This text refers to the Hardcover edition.

A wonderful book for kids struggling with fears, especially at bedtime! It is written from a Christian perspective, which we find important in our home. Our kids learn to find comfort in the Scriptures, and this provides so many great Scripture references that are easy for kids to understand and memorize to help them with fear.
