Customer Reviews

"A delight to browse through and inspiring to plan menus with, The China Study Family Cookbook is an enthusiastically and unreservedly recommended addition to personal, family, and community library cookbook collections." â€”Midwest Book Review

Del Sroufe's passion for cooking began at eight years old and never faded. In 1989 he went to work for one of Columbus's premier vegetarian restaurants, the King Avenue Coffeehouse, where he honed his craft as a baker and chef. Sroufe opened Del's Bread, a vegan bakery, before beginning vegan meal delivery service in 2001, serving eclectic plant-based cuisine to Columbus residents. During this time, he developed what became a very popular cooking class series, sharing many of the delicious recipes he had created over the years. In 2006, Sroufe joined Wellness Forum Foods as co-owner and chef, where he continued the tradition of delivering great tasting, plant-based meals to clients in Columbus as well as throughout the continental U.S. Sroufe also joined The Wellness Forum as a member where, after a lifetime of yo-yo dieting, he has lost over 200 pounds on a low fat, plant-based diet. He continues to teach cooking classes at local venues like Whole Foods, Community Recreation Centers, and The Wellness Forum. Sroufe is the author of The China Study: Quick & Easy Cookbook, as well as Forks Over Knives; The Cookbook, a vegan cookbook companion to the acclaimed documentary Forks Over Knives.

These recipes are really good. The pictures are well done and are printed on nice paper (not thin). The book is printed in the USA. The recipes use ingredients that you can find at your local grocery store. There are recipes that have just a few ingredients and some that have over 10. Anyone that can boil water can make these :-). If you find some recipes that seem bland, just remember that when switching from a standard American diet to a plant based diet, your taste buds need a few weeks to adjust. So just kick up the spices a notch and roll with it! Hit that buy button and get yourself healthy!

Great book and excellent recipes.

Love the recipes!

Great recipes the whole family can enjoy

"The China Study Family Cookbook" is a whole food, plant-based (vegan) cookbook containing 100 recipes. It's intended for families, so most of the recipes were for 4 or 6 or 8 people. The author also explained how to get kids involved with making the food (and so many of the recipes are fairly easy to make). He also assumed that the reader had little experience in the kitchen, so he explained things like knife safety. The cookbook is targeted at people who are used to popular, Standard American Diet foods. He has healthy versions of hot cocoa, baked donuts, Mac & Cheese (with no cheese), meatballs (with no meat), and so on. The intent is for a similar taste and texture experience, but with much healthier ingredients. Some recipes did use gluten-containing grains or tree nuts (if this is a concern for you), but others didn't. There were pictures of the finished products, many of which looked very tasty. There were also some short articles about people who went vegan, why, and how they did it when the rest of their family wasn't interested in eating vegan. Overall, I'd recommend this cookbook to people with families who are interested in adding more whole-food, plant-based meals to their diet. I received an ebook review copy of this book from the publisher through NetGalley.

I'm looking forward to trying many of these plant-based recipes and am impressed with the China Study series of books.
